Kavan, Allen Get Leads in Musical

Show Has Three Faculty Directors

Leads for the spring musical, "Finian's Rainbow," have been announced by its three directors, Dr. Edwin L. Clark, John Miller, and Dr. James Peterson.

The leading feminine role, Sharon McEnergin, will be sung by Pat Kavan. The male lead, Woody Mahoney, is Hugh Allen.

"We are pleased to have both these students in the cast because of their extensive training in both dramatic and musical fields," said Dr. Clark.

Og, the leprechaun created on Broadway by David Wayne, is being played by Terry Wolfe.

Allen will sing "If This Isn't Love." Look to the Rainbow, "Old Devil Moon," and "That Great Come and Get It Day."

Miss Kavan sings "How are Things in Gloomamorra," "If This Isn't Love," Look to the Rainbow, and "Old Devil Moon."

As the leprechaun, Wolfe will sing "Something Sort of Grandish," and "When I'm Near the Girl I Love."

Tryouts for non-singing roles will be at 7 p. m. Monday in the Auditorium. Dr. Clark emphasized that "Finian's Rainbow" offers many excellent roles for non-singers.

The musical will be presented March 22, 23, 24 in the University Theater.

Rally To Present Alma Mater Song

Classes will be dismissed at 11:30 this morning for a pre-Creighton-OU game pep convocation. The rally will be from 11:35 a. m. to noon in the University auditorium.

Emcee Lew Radcliffe will introduce the basketball team; and the University, directed by Arthur Custer, will play OU's Alma Mater song.

A short skit, presented by Feathers, the women's pep club, will portray the Indian's hopes of victory over the Blue Jays tonight.

Gayle Martin, cheerleading captain, will direct the skit. Skit players include Joan Engstrom, Sharon Gidley, Avis Hill, Gail Johnson, Mary Ann Leo, Ann McMahon, Annette Nicas and Claudia Olson.

Fund To Purchase New Library Books

Today is the last day for students to contribute to the Carolyn Nevins memorial fund. The money collected will be used for the purchase of books in fields or subjects that Carolyn was interested in. Miss Ellen Lord, university librarian, is chairman of the committee in charge of selecting the books.

The books will be added to the library's present collection with a nameplate on the inside cover of each one.

Miss Lord will receive any suggestions from students or organizations on the purchase of the books.

Panhellenic-IFC Plan Greek Week Project, Activities

Greek campus organizations will combine forces March 5-9 for their annual "Gree Week-Help Week" service project. The Christ Child Center, 1227 South 22nd, will be the 1956 project.

Representatives of the Panhellenic and Interfraternity Councils, governing bodies of campus sororities and fraternities, met Tuesday to select the project and committee heads.

Over-all Greek Week chairmen are Park Ames and Bob Rasgorshek. Other chairmen are Dick Daley, treasurer; Betty Ellsworth, publicity; Judy Rogers and Lew Radcliffe, dance; Judy Samuelson, banquet; Bill Grady, skit; Pat Kavan, decorations; Sue Moss, song, and Lowell Huber, coffee hour.

Greek Week will officially kick-off with a Coffee Hour at 4 p. m. Friday, Mar. 3, in the Faculty Clubroom. Specific duties will be discussed at that time. Work hours will be assigned to each Greek participating the week preceding the Coffee Hour.

Climax to Greek Week activities will be a banquet in the University Auditorium where the outstanding woman's and men's pledges and scholarships, and athletic awards will be announced. A dance will follow from 9 p. m. to midnight at Peony Park Ballroom.

Sullenger Represents Sociology Department

Representing Omaha University in Chicago last week at a meeting of the National Society for the Study of Social Problems was Dr. Earl Sullenger, chairman of the department of sociology.

Dr. Sullenger was selected on the basis of research experimentation in urban and rural communities. Nine universities and colleges were represented at the meeting.

Mid-Year Graduates Number 84, Earn 12 Different Degrees

The registrar's office announced 84 mid-year graduates. Twelve different degrees were presented.

General Education
Receiving a degree of Bachelor of General Education were Ralph Wayne Anderson, Janet Battles Barrett, Robert G. Bell, Norman F. Buddecke, William Russ Croplin, Milton C. Davis, Ray Arthur Dearth, Angelo L. Dentamaro, George R. Dillon, Samuel J. Firmature, Ralph Edward Hammer, Kenneth C. Heyer and William McNamara Higgins.

Business Administration
Those who received a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration were Lawrence S. Albert, Marc E. Anthony, Raymond Arthur Carnes, Francis J. Cooney, Melvin Sheldon Decker, Stewart L. Engstahl, Muriel Elbbard, Vinton Mallory, Robert Lowell Mayne, and Richard W. Westcott. Those who received a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration were Lawrence S. Albert, Marc E. Anthony, Raymond Arthur Carnes, Francis J. Cooney, Melvin Sheldon Decker, Stewart L. Engstahl, Muriel Elbbard, Vinton Mallory, Robert Lowell Mayne, and Richard W. Westcott.

Alum Agents Kick Off Drive

Kick-off dinner for the 1956 Alumni Fund Drive was Monday evening. Host for the dinner was Chairman Richard J. McFayden, national chairman of the Alumni Fund.

So far, there are 30 teams and about 150 Fund agents ready to solicit the Omaha-Council Bluffs area. Alumni outside of the Omaha area will be contacted by mail through the '56 Fund brochure.

Three Fund categories have been approved by the Alumni Board of Directors: the Building Fund, the Scholarship Fund and the Subsistence Fund.

The personal solicitation phase of the campaign ends Mar. 2 with a victory dinner for all captains and agents.

Last year, a total of 752 alumni and friends evidenced their faith in the future of the University of Omaha and the Alumni Association by contributing a total of $8,610 to the Alumni Fund, commented Jim Erixon, alumni secretary.

Exams Offer To Pre-Meds

Students wishing to enter medical school in the fall of 1957 are required to take admission tests this spring or fall.

Tests for students in this area will be given May 5 and Oct. 30 at Creighton University. No make-up or special exams will be given. Most medical schools prefer the examinations be taken at the earlier date.

The Medical College Admission Test consists of examinations of general scholastic ability and achievement tests in science and modern society, all administered at a single half-day session.

Scores will be reported directly to recognized schools of medicine, dentistry, pharmacy, nursing, veterinary medicine, and other approved professional schools.

To apply, students must see their adviser or write to Educational Testing Service, 20 Nassau street, Princeton, New Jersey for application blanks and bulletins of information. Applications must reach Educational Testing Service at least two weeks before testing date desired.

Elizabeth Morrison Stratbucker, Patricia Sullivan and Elizabeth Tyndale, BS in Engineering

A Bachelor of Science in Engineering and Business Administration degree was earned by David A. Baxter, Jr., Clyde B. Conrad, Darrell D. Cox, Gene E. Jordan, Arthur John Menzies, Donald K. Tinkler and Gerald F. Vogt.

Galen Krigh Lilleshurp and Patricia Helen Nolan received degrees of Bachelor of Science in Journalism. Receiving Bachelor's degrees in Science in Nursing and in Military Science were, respectively, Joyce L. Arnold and Carol Edward Wildman. Those who received a Bachelor degree in Fine Arts were Sam J. Georges, Charles Mich Rullman and Joseph L. Slavik.

Earning a Bachelor of Arts degree were William F. Davis, Donald James Dunn, James E. Forrest, Edwin H. Finkle, Walter F. Kleinmanner and Grace A. Little. More BA Degrees

Others were Francis Clyde Scott, Dorothy Elberta Spence, John J. Vacanti, James K. Vickery and Kenneth E. P. Young. Four students received their Master of Science in Education degree. They were David G. Alexander, Audrey Bennett French, Lyle K. Meier and Edgar Fitzroy Jones.

Those remaining graduates received associate degrees. Earning a title in engineering in the College of Applied and Sciences were Tom Phipps and Nathan P. Winter. Two were students in the College of Adult Education. Guy M. Blakey and Thomas C. Sluder received titles in general Education.

Architect Hired For Revision

The Board of Regents yesterday passed a resolution to hire John Latenser and Sons Architects to work with the University Planning Committee on the study of a revised campus development plan. This revised plan will be used as a guide in the location of future buildings, parking areas and landscaping. The architects will also design and engineer a new combination classroom and laboratory building.

Juniors Elect Martin To Fill Council Post

Mardee Martin is new junior representative to Student Council. A special election took place Wednesday to choose a candidate to replace Jean Harrington McKee, who left school.

Other candidates running for the office were Annette Dubler and Lois Proffitt. One hundred and two juniors voted in the special election.

Miss Martin is a home economics major. She holds executive offices in the Home Economics Club, Feathers, women's pep organization, and Chi Omega sorority. She is a member of Corinthian Society and Alpha Lambda Delta, and is a holder of an Omaha University Honor Scholarship.

Young Democrats Get New Director

A new chairman of the Board of Regional Directors of the Young Democratic Clubs of America has been appointed by David A. Bunn, president of the Young Democratic Clubs of America.

New chairman is Sidney Kallick of Chicago, Ill. Kallick, a lawyer, is assistant state's attorney for Cook County and was formerly a regional director for the Young Democrats for the Midwest.

Bunn also announced the appointment of regional directors of the Young Democratic Clubs. Rod Barnes, Huron, S. D., businessman, is regional director for Region 9, which includes Nebraska, North Dakota, Montana and South Dakota. Barnes is the national committeeman of the Young Democratic Clubs of South Dakota.

Set of 54 Books Donated to Library

A recent addition to the 104,000 volumes on hand in the Gene Epley Library is a 54 volume set of "Great Books of the Western World" edited by Robert Maynard Hutchins. The 54 volumes, containing the works of 74 authors, span western thought from Homer through the Bible and into the twentieth century.

Valued at $750, the set was donated by the Old Dominion Foundation. Universities and colleges to receive the "Great Books" were chosen by a committee of the American Literary Association.

The book display racks in the Library's reference room was the gift of Mrs. Dale R. Gustafson, a sister of Richard G. Shapeland. Mrs. Shapeland, who received her BA from OU in 1954, was killed in an auto accident last May near El Paso, Texas, while serving in the Armed Forces.

Every Day Busy One For Audio-Visual Staff

By Dave Parrish

The Audio-Visual Department in the Gene Eppley Library offers students opportunities for learning and relaxation.

A tape recording lab, already familiar to some language, speech, radio-journalism, and secretarial science students, may be used by individuals as well as classes.

Three small preview, or listening rooms, are available for students and faculty members. These rooms may be used to look at slides, film strips, or for listening to records. The supply of records for amusement is at a minimum at the present time, but plans are in progress to expand the number and selection of records for this purpose.

Sound Room Has Spotlights

The department also has a large sound room for motion picture screening which is equipped with permanent seats and spot ceiling lights for taking notes.

Miss Ruth Moline, director of the department, urges students to come in and make use of the facilities. The department is located on the east side of the library, directly across from the reserve desk in the Library foyer is the entrance.

All student projectionists are under the direction of Miss Moline. She says that anyone interested in learning how to operate a movie projector should feel free to come in and talk to her.

Reception Room Lists Films

Every day is a busy day in the Audio-Visual Department. A huge board in the Reception Room lists

Air Force Seeks Veteran Trainees

Veterans with previous military service in the Air Force and other branches are being sought for paid training assignments.

Training is offered in the fields of Personnel and Administration, Supply, Motorized and Equipment Maintenance, Radio-Radar Systems, Communications Operations and Air Traffic Control.

Veterans will receive with the Reserve pay, promotion and retirement credits.

Reserve service in this training status is valid for retirement purposes based upon the completion of each year. Participation will give each veteran the opportunity to build on his retirement credits.

Donald Donaher and Paul Derry, Omaha University students, are Air Force Sergeants with the reserve unit training in the fields of Aircraft Control and Radio-Radar Systems.

Interested veterans should call BEllvue 2100, extension 63213, for further information or obtain literature available in Room 274.

Library Now Has 'Best Fiction Novel of 1955'

Something new appears each week on the "browsing shelf" of the Gene Eppley Library.

A recent addition is John O'Hara's "Ten North Frederick," winner of the Critics' Award as the best fiction novel of 1955. It is a summation of O'Hara's concern with social status.

Another addition is "American Heritage," published bi-monthly. As a "magazine book," each issue deals with a specific phase of American Heritage.

Illustrations in the book include paintings of American scenes by famous artists. All of these "magazine books" are now catalogued and ready for use. They have been placed on the new books shelf just inside the door of the Reference Room.

More in the practical direction are "The Power of Creative Selling" and the "Theater World for 1954-55."

The latter presents a review of the finest theatrical productions of the years 1954 and 1955 with numerous illustrations and critical viewpoints of the productions. It also gives life "histories" of prominent figures of the theater.

Dear Editor . . .

Campus Comments

Dear Fellow Students:

The parking situation at OU is finally getting out of hand. If you have noticed, the faculty has been given additional parking space in front of the newly-erected Music Building. It wasn't enough that the administration took a large section of the main parking lot, in addition to the parking space east of the Administration building; they had to take away the valuable space in front of the Music Building.

In order to secure a parking space near the University, a student has to arrive at the campus bright and early in the morning, and even then he or she may have to park in Elmwood park.

There are about 125 instructors employed at OU. There are also about 2,225 day students enrolled. I ask you, why is it that the instructors have much more parking facilities in comparison than the students? Most large business concerns don't provide special parking for their employees. Why must Omaha U? Granted, professors and instructors are a necessity, but so are the students. After all, if it weren't for the attendance of the students, the instructors wouldn't have jobs.

I don't believe I have the answer to this problem, but I sincerely believe if the Student Council met with the administration, they could work out a possible solution.

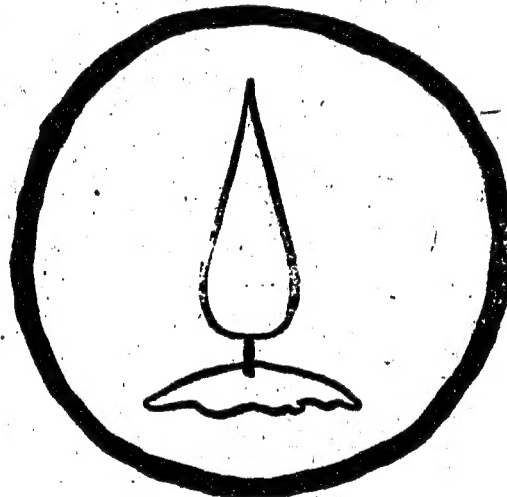

I realize the old saying, "You can't fight City Hall," but I believe at least an effort should be made to remedy this disturbing situation.

Bill Steck,
Dick Cotton.

The largest conventional bomb in World War II contained less than two tons of TNT, according to an 11th Air Division (ADC) bulletin. Now, continues the item, atomic and hydrogen bombs are described in thousands and millions of ton equivalent to TNT. One blast in Pacific Ocean tests early in 1954 produced more than three times the effect of the total tonnage of bombs dropped by the United States and Royal Air Forces on Germany during World War II. This means one airplane today can deliver three times the firepower of the entire combined efforts of those two air forces over German territory during several years of war.—C.N.S.

Tip on 'Herman' Gives Gateway 'Plant' Story

Anonymous tips given to newspapers often lead to a story. A tip the GATEWAY got this week led to "Herman."

"Herman" is the green combination of plants outside University Librarian Miss Ellen Lord's office door.

He was christened by the Library staff a week after his arrival at the school. According to one staff worker, "We couldn't let anything with such a friendly personality and so much character go unnamed."

Why Masculine Name?

Asked why the plant was given a masculine name, the official replied, "Why shouldn't he be a male?"

"Herman is one of the four plants donated by the University

Alumni Association to the new Gene Eppley Library. A "Herman, Jr." resides under Mr. Eppley's picture.

Two more, large rubber plants of Oklahoma origin, will be placed in the other wrought iron and stone planters by the south building entrance. The plants were supplied by "Flowers by Simonds" here in Omaha.

Jim Erixon, secretary of the Alumni Association, commented that the plants had been chosen by Miss Lord, Francis L. Simonds, and himself.

"Herman" has a personal thermometer that tells the librarians when to water him. It turns pink when he is wet and blue when he is dry.

Backbone Painted Steel Gray

Herman's backbone is made up of Redbud branches from a Florence nursery. They are painted with a steel gray finish.

There are actually six different plants in "Herman." He has a long, skinny green and white "Dracaena warneckii" which is native to a semi-arid zone.

One plant, a large oval-shaped green with white splotches commonly called the "dumb cane," is poisonous. Simond said that this South American species would make a person's mouth swell and eventually cause death if eaten in a sufficient quantity.

African Native Is Chinese

A native of Africa, the "Chinese evergreen" in Herman has a solid arrow-shaped leaf. Another plant, the long, crawling "pothos aureus," is related to the sweet potato.

Simond mentioned the "vitis rhombifolia" or "grape ivy," a three-leaf branched vine. Its tendrils grow to 30 or 40 feet. He said that "eventually, you won't be able to see Miss Lord."

Other plants that combine to make up the imposing creature of "Herman" are from the lowlands of Holland.

geography (head of the department).

Architects John Latenser and Sons were hired to design and engineer new classrooms in the north end of the former library space in the Administration Building. They will also construct a three-level office-workroom-vault facility for the Registrar's office in the south end of the former library.

The Gilmore Construction Company was employed to construct a post office department in the former audio-visual headquarters in the Administration Building. This will provide quarters for a faculty and staff-mail room and additional storeroom space for the Bookstore. Estimated cost of the remodeling is $1,836.

New Journalism Prof Approved at Meeting

The Regents approved appointment of Carroll Thompson as journalism instructor. He will replace Clifford L. Ellis, assistant professor and acting head of the Journalism Department, who resigned.

Thompson is now publicity director and journalism instructor at Midland College in Fremont. His appointment becomes effective Sept. 1, 1956.

Dance Company Will Give Recital

Four members of the Maxine Munt-Alfred Brooks modern dance company will present a convocation Monday, Feb. 27, at 11 a. m. in the auditorium.

The professional dance concert will be sponsored by Orchesis, Omaha University modern dance group. Classes will not be dismissed for the convocation.

A modern dance clinic will be given Saturday afternoon preceding the Monday program. Anyone interested is invited.

Miss Munt received her bachelor's degree from the University of Nebraska after spending two years at the University of Omaha.

Two-Act Comedy Sparkles With Humorous Portrayals

By Kay Anderson

Dr. Edwin L. Clark and his University Theater cast can mark up another success to their credit in last week's production of "Bernardine."

The two-act comedy except for a few serious moments was almost continuously funny, and the audience loved it.

Herre Mirrors Frustrations

Everyone in the cast performed well. However, special mention should be made of Dick Herre's performance. Playing Wormy Weldy, a high-schooler beset by problems, Herre feelingly mirrored the frustrations of the boy.

Marcia Morris as Wormy's overly concerned mother seemed nearly perfect. Almost everyone in the theater must have identified her characterization with certain traits of their own mothers. Every line she spoke was entirely natural and unstrained.

Teen-Age Antics Humorous

The teen-agers Hugh Allen, Gifford Anderson, John Clark, Dave Dittler, Thomas Finley, Al Longacre and Arnie Smith were realistic in their humorous portrayals.

Carol Rhea as Jean and Marcia Wetzler as Enid were right in their parts as the teen-age love interest and the blond beauty.

The rest of the cast including the most minor characters were well suited to their roles.

Unusual staging and appropriate music kept the play moving rapidly not allowing for one dull moment.

Students Must Get Permits

Students are reminded of the necessity to obtain a University parking permit, which may be obtained from the Office of the Dean of Student Personnel. The "stickers" are issued at no cost to the student, and cars without them will be ticketed.

"The reason we issue these permits," said Fred R. Blair, campus policeman, "is to make reasonably certain that no persons other than students are using the parking facilities offered by the University. Otherwise, it is possible that unauthorized persons will use our facilities."

Mr. Blair also noted that students occasionally use more space than is necessary. Offenses have been particularly high on the Fieldhouse lot. "Stalls" on the Fieldhouse lot are not individually marked, and the only solution is that students exercise consideration, he added.

Cars parked on grassy areas or over curb markings also shall be ticketed.

Students Exempt With Parents' Aid

Omaha University students may earn any amount of money and still be classified as an income tax exemption if his parents furnish more than one-half his support.

In order to be classified as a student the individual must carry a full load of studies as specified by Omaha University. He must also attend school a minimum of five months a year.

The 1954 Internal Revenue Code states that a student may be exempt $600 for both himself and his parent.

Students earning more than $600 per year are required to file for returns. Those earning less must also file in order to receive the returns which are based upon the amount of earnings, hours and exemptions.

Pi KA Announces Chairmen For Annual Dinner Dance

Tom Finley and Jim Plaster have been announced as co-chairmen for the Pi Kappa Alpha dinner dance.

Assisting them as committee heads will be Gary Carlson, invitations; Warren Hopson, favors, and Jack Seefus, decorations.

The Dixiecrats combo will play at the informal dance on Saturday, Mar. 3, from 7 to midnight at the Livestock Exchange Building.

The program will consist of the announcement of new officers, the presentation of one member from each class with the highest average and the active with the most outstanding improvement in grade average.

The dinner dance is held annually in honor of the anniversary of the fraternity's founding on Mar. 1, 1868.

Club Corner

This is the first in a series of columns about the various organizations on campus.

Each week several different organizations will be sketched along the lines of their functions, aims and social activities. Special emphasis will be placed on their contributions to OU and the students.

Feathers

Feathers, girls' pep and service organization, consists of ten upper class women from each sorority, ISA and unaffiliated. The group sponsors the Joe College dance which is held annually on the front steps of the school. Their most important function is to form the cheering section and promote team spirit and moral support. They attend all the football games and several basket ball games and form a special cheering section.

Officers are Avice Hill, president; Barbara Scott, vice-president; Shala Andrews, secretary; and Mardee Martin, treasurer.

Warriors

Warriors, men's pep organization, also aims at promoting school spirit and interest in athletics. They sponsor football and basket ball rallies and offer an annual trophy to the basket ball player of the year.

Officers are Fred Walters, president; Dick Vernon, vice-president; Bob Rasgorshek, secretary, and Park Ames, treasurer.

Pinfeathers

Pinfeathers are the freshman auxiliary of the Feathers. They have separate meetings but join in the cheering section at the games.

Officers are Kay Custer, president; Judy Starr, secretary, and Diane Langevin, treasurer.

Cheerleaders

Jean Harington McKee captained the seven faithful cheerleaders who led yells at the games and pre-game rallies this year. They conducted the sideline support for the football and basket ball squads.

Other members were Betti Coleman, Sharyn Heldt, Bob Holsten, Gayle Martin, Judy Samuelson and Dick Vernon.

Independent Students To Give Parents Tea

Independent Students Association is giving a Parents Tea tomorrow night from 7-9:30 in the Faculty Club room.

The purpose of the tea is to acquaint the parents with other ISA members. General chairman for the event is Darlene Ludwig.

Those participating in a talent show for the tea are Mike Combs, Marilyn Crandall, Elise Dinkel and Charlotte Stanley.

Betty Ellsworth, former editor of the GATEWAY, was Mardi

The party will be at 7:30 p. m. at Kay Anderson's home, 1320 No. 52d St. Jeanne Barton is food chairman and Patsy Halverson and Sue Moss are in charge of the skit.

The copper cl can, the GATEWAY'S "Oscar," will be awarded at the party. It is awarded each semester to the person who makes the greatest contribution to the paper during the previous semester. Marcia Miller, GATEWAY editor-in-chief was the recipient last semester.

Tentative plans were discussed for a college press day in April. Journalism professors and students from Nebraska and Iowa colleges will meet at OU for a day of lectures, discussion groups and seminars.

Lutherans Elect Loring President for Semester

Election of officers was the agenda of the Febr. 8 meeting of the Lutheran Students Association.

Dorothy Loring will preside over the second semester meetings. Jim Zulfer and Barbara Stollard are vice-president and secretary respectively. Barbara Hansen will serve as treasurer.

All students, regardless of religious denomination, are invited to attend the Wednesday noon meetings, which consist of Bible studies under the direction of a local minister.

Zulfer and Jerry Zweible attended a three day officers' training school in the new LSA house in Lincoln last weekend.

Dance To Feature Costume Contest

The Lambda Chi's annual Mardi Gras costume dance will be Friday, Feb. 24 from 9 to midnight.

Eddy Haddad and his orchestra will play at the dance at the Elks Club, 18th and Dodge. Admission will be one Greek card per couple and everyone must wear a costume.

The costumes will be judged and prizes awarded for the most symbolic, most humorous and most original costumes.

Contest judges are the dance sponsors, Dr. Robert Harper, Dr. Duane Hill, Dr. C. Glenn Lewis, Capt. John Plantikow and Major Leroy Wenstrom.

Chairman for the Mardi Gras is Don Fjellin.

The only strictly formal dance at the University is given for all Greeks by Pi Kappa Alpha social fraternity.

Speaking of apron strings—there are some strange looking kitchen lab-specimen delving into the deeper arts of Miss Margaret Killian's Foods 102 class this semester. None other than a half dozen or so of OU's heftiest gentlemen students are now learning to survive under the toils of a day in the kitchen—including all the little heartbreaks such as cake failures and dishpan hands.

However, the word is getting around that these amateur chefs are beginning to cook circles around their feminine counterparts and that success, not failure in the culinary line is their by-word!

More power to them—but the question now is: When are they going to let the ladies into Air Science? (Advanced of course!)

A word to the wise is sufficient: Remember that soundproofing is not what it used to be. When indulging in "conversation" in any of the various library rooms use your discretion: Not the enemy—but half the school may be listening (with smiles) to your every word—so speak low or, forever hold your peace.

The Brandeis Junior Colony is as busy as a beehive now that the new spring frocks are putting in their appearance. Really "frocks" is a kind of old-fashioned word for these stunning styles; for the latest and newest in fashion types are available.

Did you know that the "Empire" look (pronounced "umm-peer," if you're really being New Yorkish), of the high, high, waistline—is quickly becoming the most promising line for spring. The Empire lines are evident in dresses available at the Junior Colony from such designers as Saba of California, Jonathan Logan, Bobbie Brooks, Mr. Mort, and the Junior House of Milwaukee.

This spring the annual favorite of NAVY, accented with dashes or dots of white: the picture of crispness, is found in every fabric from butcher linen to silk shantung. Navy appears in the Easter suit, the party dress, sports wear, and the linen school skirt-blouse ensembles. Navy blue and polka dots of white are no longer only for the grandmas—in stock at the Junior Colony are a multitude of these styles for the smart college woman; and her mother; and her younger sister; and even grandma—if she's built to wear junior styles!

Indian Insight

Score in Study Baffles

Big news in the basketball world for the past few weeks is the ineligibility of star cagers. Not only on the national scene, but here on the OU campus.

Dandy Dallas Dobbs is the most prominent lad to feel the scholastic ax. He led Big Seven scoring until semester's end judgment day at Kansas University.

And Indiana lost Sweet Charlie Brown and "Sugar" Lumpkin. Their book learning deficiencies don't speak well for DuSable High in Chicago, the high school home of this pair of dusky court cuties.

But the schools that disqualify top athletes gain prestige by evidencing the proper relationship of scholarship and athletic activity.

Our own Howard Baker learned that he was ineligible for second semester hoop play, and announced his plight to coach Jack Cotton with dramatic overtones.

Entering Cotton's cubicle in "Fieldhouse Row," Howie said, "Dallas Dobbs and Howard Baker." Nuff said to a hoop expert, and Long Jack Cotton is number one in that category.

The baby brother in OU's Baker & Baker football act, Howard is an example of the rugged situation encountered by the student who takes part in practice sessions through both football and basketball seasons.

The blond bomber from Atlantic, Ia., Jackie Paulson, cooled first semester classes despite double sports duty. The freshman athlete developed into a fine wing-back replacement last fall after getting a late start.

Jack sees plenty of court action with the varsity hoop squad.

Another first year man, Sheldon Carlson, was stymied by his studies. The Tech grad was getting varsity action.

The slack in squad strength may be taken up by new men enrolled this semester.

Dave Goecker, C. B., Abe Lincoln starter in 1954, transferred here from Grinnell College. With two practices under the boards, 6-1 Dave started against Morningside and played a large part of the close contest.

He hit three baskets in that game. Now he is suffering from infected blisters.

LeRoy (Butch) Kozeny also got into the battle at Sioux City. Butch is a service returnee who expects to gradually work back to top form. He prepped at South.

Rich Stevens and Dean Goodman are other new boys practicing. Former Benson Bumble Dick Malone is on crutches with a sprained ankle.

Malone, a rugged rebounder, returned to OU this semester. He competed with the Papooses last year.

The eligibility factor could work in the Indians favor in tonight's duel with the Creightons.

Loss of Lyle O'Dell because of book trouble is beneficial or harmful to OU's chances, depending on your personal opinion of the North grad's abilities. This writer has vowed the 6-5 O'Dell perhaps a dozen times in the past five years, but is still unable to evaluate his talent, much less his value to any team.

Ed Bids For Mitt Crown In Midwest

Tonight and tomorrow evening Omaha City Golden Gloves champions put on the mitts against the best in the rest of the state.

Eddie Anderson, an Omaha University student, is the middleweight member of this local cast. He'll try for the third time to gain the Midwest championship.

The fight fans who've seen Ed at work with his fists will guarantee that the 21-year-old athlete will give it a real battle. He's a life-size advertisement for the value of conditioning and courage. Punch Thrown Worth Two Held.

His semi-final go with Don Gray was the closest fight for Anderson in this year's city competition. The smooth Gray cut Eddie's lip early in the battle.

But Ed kept slugging away, and soon Gray did little more than threaten. Gray's endurance wasn't enough, and he held back more punches than he sent towards Mr. Anderson.

Battling under Cudahy colors, Eddie took the 160 lb. crown with a quick KO win over lean Dick Elwood, who had knocked out his semi-final foe in the first round. Early Start In Gloves World.

Ed's first attempt at the annual amateur event came in 1952. He was a Central High School junior, age 17.

Ernie Trousdale, now a non-descript professional, was given a split decision over Andy in the welterweight division.

Many fans remember this scrap as a marked example of official handiwork.

First Title in 1953

In 1953 Ed earned the city welter crown. He was Midwest runner-up that year.

But fortune came Ed's way, and he took the Chicago trip as a re-

Cornell Visits For Dual Meet

Omaha University's track squad will open their home season Saturday when they host the Red Raiders from Cornell College in a dual meet in the fieldhouse at 2.

This will be the second outing of the season for the Indians who placed third in a quadrangular meet at Kansas State, Febr. 7.

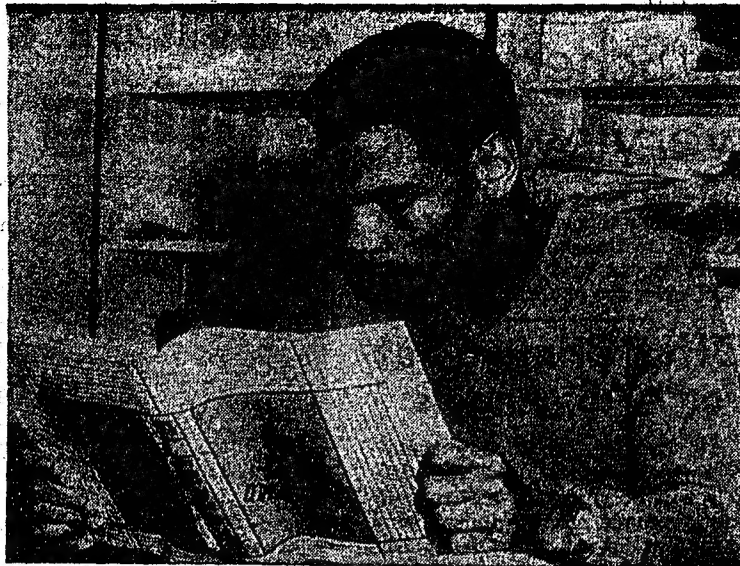

Coach Ernie Gorr is counting heavily on the Barnes brothers, Bob and Bill, to help chalk up a victory for the Indians. At K-State last week, Bob won the 440-yard event in 51.2 while Bill finished second in the 75-yard intermediates and third in the high hurdles.

Dave Pillar, shot putter, is a man who can help the Indians a great deal, according to his coach. Fleet OU junior, Loyd Hunter, is a prospect to be watched in the sprints and hurdles.

Dash man Merrill Gee is another Indian who made a good showing at K-State last week.

Creighton OU Meet At Hilltop

Omaha University's basketball squad will invade the hilltop tonight to battle it out with their archrival, Creighton University.

In a rivalry dating back to 1946, the talented Creightons have lost only once to OU. The Indians broke the Bluejay jinx with a thrill-packed '95-'96 victory last season in the fieldhouse.

The teams clashed earlier this season on the OU court, Creighton coming out the victor, 77-60.

Coach Tommy Thomsen's Bluejays recently returned from a five-game Eastern road trip in which they met three of the nation's top twenty teams. The Jays move into tonight's game with a 9-9 season record.

The Indians have won 6 and lost 13 thus far this season.

The biggest problem facing the Indians tonight is stopping Creighton ace Bob Gibson. So far this season, the Bluejay jumping jack has averaged a sizzling 24 points per game.

The Creightons will miss the services of their 6'5" center, Lyle "Slim" O'Dell. Lanky Lyle, the squad's second high scorer, is ineligible this semester.

Gibson will move into the pivot spot with his elastic 6-1 height.

Doug Klanderud tops the starting Bluejay lineup at 6-4. The initial five averages about 6-1, and smokes with speed.

Reserve teams from both schools meet before the varsity game.

Tough Luck Losses In Final Home Pair

Omaha University's hard luck Indians, fell twice in their final pair of home games.

Kansas State Teachers of Pittsburg invaded the Fieldhouse last Saturday and went home with a 78-76 victory. Emporia State Teachers, another Kansas team, took advantage of an O.U. cold spell in the second half and handed the Indians a 75-70 defeat in the Fieldhouse the following Monday.

On both occasions OU outplayed their opponents during the earlier part of the ball games, but seemed to fade in the final minutes.

The Indians played superior ball against a Pittsburg squad, possession a 16-game win streak, and led 40-36 at intermission. In the second half, the Indians faded, and Pittsburg tied the count 70-all. Bob Sklenar was the scoring ace, but the Indian guard fouled out after pumping in 25 points.

From then on the Indians just couldn't get organized. A last minute rally by the visitors gave them a two-point margin.

Coach Jack Cotton called this the Indians' best game to date. He said the decisive factor was their inability to hit from the field in the last half.

The Indians made 55 per cent of their shot s in the first half and hit a mediocre 29 per cent in the second stanza.

The Emporia Teachers game was a carbon copy of the contest against Pittsburg.

OU held their own the first half and managed a 44-44 standstill. The Indians hit a cold streak midway to start the second half and missed 21 consecutive shots.

The Kansas club moved out in front to stay and the game ended, 75-70.

Pawnees Roll On In 'Mural League'

Participants in the men's intramural athletic league have found the Pawnees to be a persistent bunch of athletes.

After waltzing off with the crown in the sweepstakes division of flag football last fall, they are now showing their heels in the bowling and basketball events.

The swishers from the hard wood court recently racked up three wins at the expense of their chagrined foes, who now find Pawnees' victories to be a frustrating habit.

The leaders blasted hapless ISA, 57 to 28, were gifted with a forfeit win over Phi Beta Chi, and knocked Theta Chi out of second place by a 25 to 12 score.

Other contests showed Theta Chi retaliating by winning handily over P. E. Majors, 35 to 9, before slugging ISA, 54 to 19.

Sigma Phi Epsilon took a pair, 57 to 28 over P. E. Majors, and a 74 to 12 romp past Phi Beta Chi.

Newman Club finished the point barrage with a 41 to 17 victory over ISA. It was the latter's third straight loss.

Theta Chi remained at the head of the Interfraternity race with an unbeaten 3-0 mark.

Ice Sport Attracts OU Skating Bugs

Anybody got a cold puck?

That could well be the key question on campus these days, with some male athletes turning their attention to hockey.

And Sigma Phi Epsilon has contributed a chance for competition. They have formed a single-elimination tournament.

Sig Eps will award the winner a 16-inch traveling trophy. After one year's possession, the champs will be called upon to defend their right of ownership.

Teams competing, in addition to the host team, are Theta Chi, Pawnees, Pi Kappa Alpha, Tau Kappa Epsilon and the Veteran All-Stars.

In games already played, Pi Kaps eliminated Theta Chi, 4-1, while Sig Eps and Pawnees battled to a 4-4 draw in a 20-minute overtime. A special meeting will decide the latter contest.

The cost of renting the Ak-Sar-Ben rink each Monday night at 10 p. m. is $35 per game, paid for by the players on each team.

Stiff Competition Fails To Scare OU Riflemen

Although Omaha University's rifle team isn't as well known as the football team, their record so far this season proves they are just as capable in their respective sport.

The rifle team won the Shoulder to Shoulder matches held at South Dakota State College on Febr. 3 and 4. They shot against nine of the top teams in the Midwest. Representatives were from North Dakota Agricultural College, University of Minnesota and the host school. These schools entered both Army and Air Force ROTC teams.

Others present were St. Thomas Air Force, St. Olaf Air Force and the University of Omaha.

Indians Win by Five Points

OU took first place by outshooting St. Thomas, 1,384 to 1,379. South Dakota State Air Force finished third with 1,377 points. High possible score was 1,500.

The Omaha victory was a brilliant team effort as all men shot high scores. Ted Cajacob led the Indians with a 284 out of a possible 300. Next was Dick Daley with 280, Dennis Pope, 279, Park Ames, 271. Ronald Migis and Doug Postlewait scored 270's.

Dick Daley, captain of the team, explained that in a "Shoulder to Shoulder" match each team fires at a central location. In a postal match the team fire on their home range and send the targets to a central headquarters to be judged. Daley High Scorer for OU

The team matches were held on Febr. 3 and the individual matches on Febr. 4.

In the individual department Dick Daley was high for Omaha. He shot a 282 and placed fourth out of 51 men. Ted Cajacob finished with a 281 and Dennis Pope 11th with a 276.

A rifle match might seem easy to the bystander, but it is just as nerve-racking as any of the major sports claims team captain Daley.

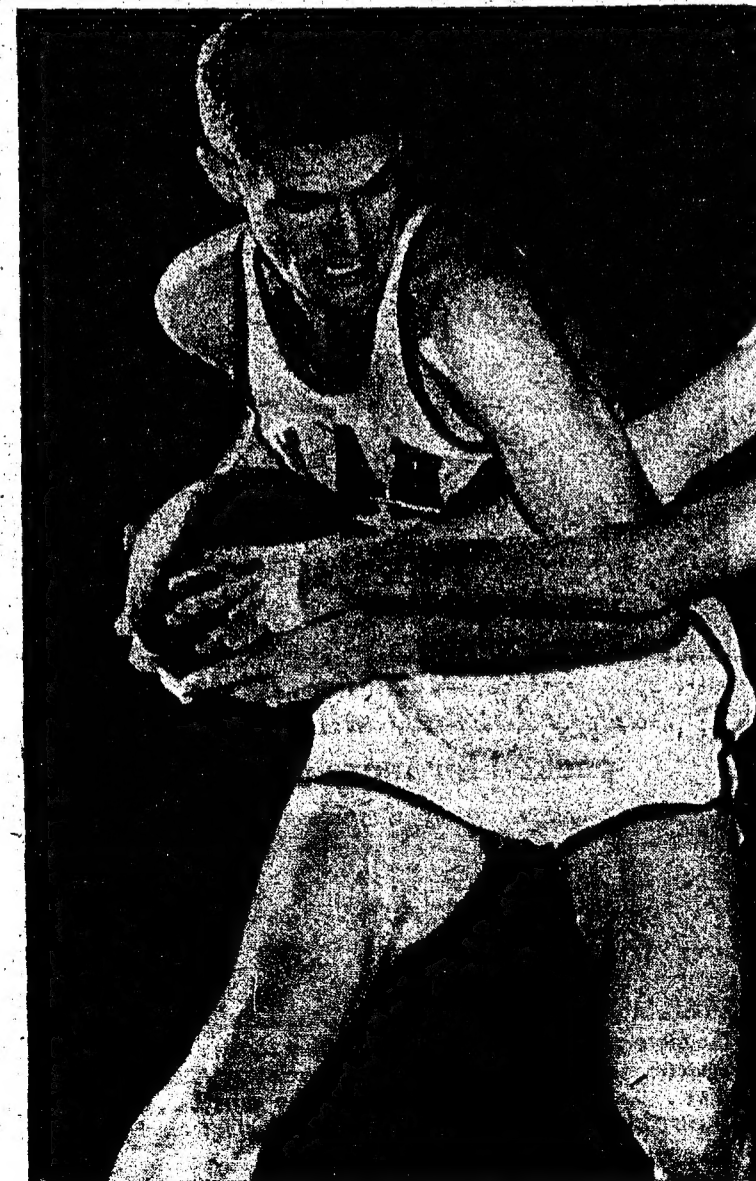

The Indian riflemen are also holding their own in the Omaha Intercity League. Standings up to date show them tied with the rifle and revolver clubs from Council Bluffs and Omaha for first place.

Latest Match with Bluejays

Omaha's latest dual match saw them taking the measure of Creighton University, 1,851 to 1,844. The match was held on the Bluejay range Thursday, Febr. 29.

Daley has proven himself well worthy of the team captaincy. Daley has maintained a 380 average throughout the first 10 matches. The second spot is a toss up between Ted Cajacob and Dennis Pope. Both have 379 averages. Rounding out the top five are Ronald Migis and Park Ames with respective averages of 374 and 364.

Why is evolution so hard to believe? A blonde can make a monkey out of a man in a single night.

Stan has the round ball in the tense action captured here. And Stanley O. Schaezle also gained possession of the trophy annually awarded by the Warrior's Men's Prep Organization to the outstanding OU basketball player. The junior ace received the hardware for the 1955-56 season during halftime ceremonies at the Rockhurst game, Jan. 28.

Committee To Focus Efforts On Workable Plan for Union

The Student Center Planning Committee is being reactivated for a concerted effort on Student Center planning. The committee last met in May, 1955. First meeting of this year will be 3 p. m. Monday, Febr. 20, in Room 213.

The committee is composed of both students and faculty and works to combine all possible ideas into the best and most workable plan for the proposed Student Union.

Faculty members of the committee include Alden Aust, superintendent of building and grounds; Joe Baker, '48 OU graduate; Hurford Davison, retailing instructor; Richard Debus, Personnel; Donald Emery, dean of the College of Adult Education; Mrs. Thelma Engle, university hostess; Charles Hoff, vice-president; Miss Margaret Killian, head of the Home Economics Department; Jay B. MacGregor, dean of Student Personnel; Ray Nolte, adult education instructor, and Don Pfisterer, assistant Dean of Student Personnel.

Student members of the committee include Lowell Huber, Inter-fraternity Council president; Marcia Miller, GATEWAY editor; Lew Radcliffe, Student Council president; Judy Rogers, Panhellenic president, and Charlotte Stanley, ISA president.

Group To Advise On Building Plans

An advisory group for an intensive study of a proposed classroom building has been created. The Classroom Building Committee, after careful study of University needs, will submit specific plans and recommendations to University authorities. Dean C. W. Helmstadter is chairman of the group.

Members of the committee include: Alden Aust, building and grounds superintendent; William Hockett, accounting instructor; Charles Hoff, University vice-president; Paul Kennedy, education instructor; Robert McGranahan, head of the General Printing and Information department; John McMillan, Physics professor; Roy Nolte, education professor; Paul Peterson, journalism instructor; Richard Thoman, head of the Geography department; Sylvester Williams, head of the engineering department, and John Woods, student placement office.

The first committee meeting will be 2 p. m. Monday, Febr. 20, in Room 213.

OU To Host At Workshop

Omaha U will be host to a group of high school counselors in the Omaha area for a Counselor's Workshop on Friday, Febr. 17.

The workshop will promote a free exchange of ideas, goals, and problems between high school counselors and the freshman-sophomore counselors at Omaha U. There will be a minimum of speeches and a maximum of discussion.

Representatives from each of OU's four colleges will meet with groups representing two high schools for discussion. Thirty-four acceptances have been received from Abraham Lincoln, Benson, Central, Thomas Jefferson, South, Technical, North and West Side high schools.

Coffee will be served at 2:30 p. m. and the conference will end at 5 p. m. It will be held in the Education Conference Center.

If you don't believe in cooperation, remember that mountains are only rocks that stick together.

Editors Plan Schedule For Literary Magazine

Deadline for student contributions to "Grain of Sand," Omaha University literary magazine, is the last week in March. The magazine will be available for purchase in May.

"Grain of Sand" editors and advisors will sponsor a high school literary contest, open to students of Omaha and Council Bluffs high schools. Dr. Ralph M. Wardle, adviser, will explain the rules of the contest today at 4 p. m. to high school English teachers.

A prize of $25 toward tuition at Omaha University will be awarded to the high school students submitting the best short story and the best poem.

All entries, both Omaha University students entries and contest manuscripts, will be judged by the "Grain of Sand" editorial board. Editors of the magazine include Jerry Emery, Marcia Morris, Sue Moss, Kay Talty and Wendell Walker.

Soroptimist Clubs Offer Graduate Scholarship

The North Central Region of the American Federation of Soroptimist Clubs is offering a $1,500 fellowship to an outstanding woman of graduate standing.

The recipient would be entitled to study in the graduate school of her choice. The fellowship is open to women who are planning graduate study in political science, some specialized field of the medical profession, or international relations.

The candidate will be selected by a committee of the North Central Region of Soroptimist Clubs, an international association of classified service clubs for executive and professional women.

Additional information may be obtained from Dr. Roy Robbins, OU graduate director.

Lute Expert Presents Music Program Today

Students will be able to hear Miss Suzanne Bloch, concert lutenist, at 11 a. m. today in the Music building. Anyone interested is invited.

Last night Miss Bloch gave a concert in the Gene Eppley Library Auditorium. The musician gave renditions of Medieval, Renaissance and Elizabethan music on a 19-stringed lute.

Dancers To Give OU Performances

Two performances of modern dance will be presented at Omaha University Saturday, Feb. 25, and Monday, Feb. 27.

Students and teachers of Omaha and Council Bluffs high schools and surrounding colleges have been invited to participate in the technique class at 2 p. m. Feb. 25, in the University's auditorium.

A lecture-demonstration will be presented to students at 2 p. m. Feb. 27, in the auditorium.

The Munt-Brooks Dance Company of New York City will perform in the West Quonset Hut. Information for time of the performances will be posted on the West Quonset Hut bulletin board.

Sigma Kappa Begins Open Rushing Today

Pan-Hellenic Council last week voted to grant special rushing privileges to Sigma Kappa sorority. The Council set Febr. 17 to Mar. 2 as the dates for the open rush.

Any women carrying 12 hours study load may sign up for the special rushing at the Dean of Students office. The standard Pan-Hellenic rushing fee will not have to be paid, however, until official pledging.

White Sands Officials To Interview Students

Last year two Omaha University graduates, Dewey and Eric Schluter, were hired by one of the research laboratories at White Sands Proving Ground, New Mexico. This year they return to the campus as members of a special recruiting team.

The brothers will be at OU next Tuesday to interview students interested in obtaining positions at the proving grounds.

A color movie on some of the work done at the grounds will be shown at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. Tuesday in Room 385.

White Sands Proving Ground is the Defense Department's research and development center for guided missiles, rockets and upper atmosphere research.
